8. Insurance and Liability

The Tenant is responsible for insuring the Tenant’s own property, equipment, records, and business operations. The Landlord is not responsible for loss of or damage to the Tenant’s property except to the extent caused by the Landlord’s gross negligence or wilful misconduct. The Tenant uses the shared printer, coffee equipment, and common amenities at the Tenant’s own risk, subject to ordinary wear and intended use.

9. Default and Abandonment

If the Tenant fails to pay rent when due, materially breaches this Lease, abandons the Office, or fails to correct a breach within a reasonable time after written notice from the Landlord, the Landlord may terminate this Lease, recover possession of the Office, apply the Security Deposit against amounts owing, and pursue any other remedy available at law.

When this Lease ends, the Tenant will vacate the Office, return all keys, fobs, and access credentials, remove the Tenant’s property, and leave the Office in reasonably clean condition, subject to reasonable wear and tear. Property left behind after the Tenant has vacated may be treated by the Landlord as abandoned after reasonable notice, if notice is practicable.

This Lease is governed by the laws of Alberta. If any provision is unenforceable, the rest of the Lease will remain in effect. Where there is more than one Tenant, each Tenant is jointly and severally liable under this Lease.
